
Methodological bases of training BMSTU specialists for new Russia

© I.V. Dolgova

Bauman Moscow State Technical University, Moscow, 105005, Russia

The article considers a new approach to training higher education technical specialists in the contexts of current tasks faced by the Russian economy. In this regard, a comprehensive approach to teaching BMSTU students plays a crucial part. Along with technical disciplines a range of economic disciplines is of great importance. It contributes greatly to finding by graduates their place in the new innovation economy.

Keywords: innovations, business, small business, business etiquette, business communication.

REFERENCES

- [1] Dolgorukov A. M. Tsennosti I smysly — Values and Meanings, 2012, no. 2, pp. 148–158.
- [2] Zhdanova O.A. Rol innovatsiy v sovremennoy ekonomike [The Role of Innovation in the Modern Economy]. In: Ekonomika, upravlenie, finansy [Economics, Management, Finance]. Proceedings of the international scientific conference with virtual participation, Perm, June 2011, Perm, Mercuriy Publ., 2011, pp. 38–40.
- [3] Andusev B.E. Direktor shkoly — School Principal, 2010, no. 4, pp. 61–69.
- [4] Fedorina Z.V. Vestnik Tomskogo gosudarstvennogo pedagogicheskogo universiteta — Bulletin of the Tomsk State Pedagogical University, 2012, no. 4, pp. 90–92.

Dolgova I.V. graduated from the Economic Faculty of Lomonosov Moscow State University. Candidate of economic sciences, associate professor at the Department of Theory of Economics at Bauman Moscow State Technical University. The author of teaching aids “Basics of Entrepreneurship”, “Introduction to business: a modern course in economic theory”, co-author of several textbooks on economics for students of engineering faculties, bachelors and specialists. The author of the curricula in the discipline of “Economics” and “Business ethics and business culture”. Scientific interests: small business and the features of its development in Russia, innovative aspects of training engineers. e-mail: irinadolgova60@mail.ru
